Everybody is Wondering What it is All About and Nobody Knows.

It's the talk of the town—that "Married on a Bet" feature the Bonanza is soon to publish. It will come out some time in the next few days. Watch for it, because the exact day will not be given in advance—or at least not more than one day's notice.

Under our agreement with William C. Hodges, Jr., the famous journalist and novelist, we are not permitted to give a synopsis of the story in advance, but we are permitted to say that it is brimful of local Tonopah interest. Some of the best known

WESTERN GOVERNORS AT SALT LAKE DISCUSS THE MEXICAN SITUATION

(By Associated Press.)
SALT LAKE CITY, June 23.—The Western Governors' Conference was called to order here today in its fifth annual session. After preliminary addresses the members plunged into the discussion of subjects of particular interest to the west.

Governor William R. Sperry of Utah gave the address of welcome, which was replied to by Governor Ernest Lister of Washington, who, as president of the conference, presided. The members expected to complete the program this afternoon and be ready to participate in the first session tomorrow of the National Governors' Conference. The executives of many eastern and middle western states were present as guests of the sectional conference.

The Mexican situation, preparedness, conservation and development of the natural resources were among the subjects expected to cause interesting discussions today. Among those on the program to speak were: Governor Moses Alexander of Idaho, Governor James Withycombe of Oregon, who is secretary of the conference, and Governor Emmet B. Boyle of Nevada. Several former executives also probably will be called upon.

The election of officers for the coming year will be held late today. Elaborate plans for entertaining the visitors during their stay have been made. After the national conference most of the governors plan to make a tour of Yellowstone National Park.

FROST DESTROYS GARDENS
Last night the mercury dropped to 29 degrees, with the result that all the gardens in town were badly frozen. Potatoes, which were commencing to blossom were cut to the ground but it is hoped that half a crop may be secured.—Silver State.

Nevada Adventists to Meet
